Friday, August 23, 2013 Guest Speaker

Steve Duba, Life Leadership

My wife and I enjoy helping move people in a positive direction in their every day lives through mentoring. Positive input on a daily basis can and will help all people in their career, family life, and circle of influence.

Everyone will be called to lead at some point in their lives. Our passion is providing a vehicle so that people of all backgrounds, have an opportunity to excel and grow.

When you lead people to truth through mentoring and educational tools, you give them the edge that is required in todays ever changing global economy.

11 Tips for Social Networking Safety

Social networking websites like MySpace, Facebook, Twitter, and Windows Live Spaces are services people can use to connect with others to share information like photos, videos, and personal messages.

As the popularity of these social sites grows, so do the risks of using them. Hackers, spammers, virus writers, identity thieves, and other criminals follow the traffic.

Read these tips to help protect yourself when you use social networks.

1. Use caution when you click links that you receive in messages from your friends on your social website. Treat links in messages on these sites as you would links in email messages. (For more information, see Approach links in email with caution and Click Fraud: Cybercriminals want you to 'like' it.)
2. Know what you've posted about yourself. A common way that hackers break into financial or other accounts is by clicking the "Forgot your password?" link on the account login page. To break into your account, they search for the answers to your security questions, such as your birthday, home town, high school class, or mother's middle name. If the site allows, make up your own password questions, and don't draw them from material anyone could find with a quick search. For more information, see:
