This Weeks Guest Speaker

Donna Thrash, Brevard Workforce

"Acing the Interview, Ten things you probably don't do (but should)
And Ten things you probably do (but shouldn't)"

Donna was fantastic when as a Guest Speaker last month, she riveted the membership with her enthusiasm and infectious inspiration.

So much so, we've asked her back!

Steps to Being a Good Neighbor

by
Victor Dahlquist

There are a variety of things to consider in being a good neighbor in this region, during turbulent or peaceful times. Our Society have been through many challenges with the cancellation of the Space Shuttle Program and both the replacement U.S. Human Space programs. Policies that also make it difficult to create new businesses and jobs put a further strain our neighborhoods. These include where you live and who you associate with on the line. Here are some suggestions help make a better environment.

1. Get to know your neighbors in a respectful way . Starting an association that just makes it easier for those who want to meet and can help each other. Be careful about a creating an organization that exerts controls on those around you . Exchange emergency contact numbers or sharing helpful info on maintenance can help folks feel more comfortable with each other.
