Issue 2014-#10
March 05, 2014

Friday's Speaker

Thomas Fulmer

Thomas Fulmer is an entrepreneur that has founded 5 companies since 1994 and he has helped thousands of people become more confident and more effective in dealing with people and with handling difficult situations with poise and diplomacy. Thomas currently heads the Thomas Fulmer Company, a training and coaching company that provides experienced, knowledgeable trainers to solve a variety of business needs. Over the 19 years since launching his first company, Thomas has found that those who are open to learning from others and willing to take charge of situations tend to be the ones that get promoted, get recognized, and get rewarded most.

Thomas has been dubbed by his clients as "The Opportunity Man" (TOM) for his ability to see the big picture and to quickly recognize opportunities in almost any situation. He sees not problems, challenges, or even issues, but opportunities even in the most difficult situations.

As a trainer and coach, Mr. Fulmer focuses not only on the core "people" and "problem-solving" skills people need to succeed in today's world, but also on the use of technology to improve relationships, reduce frustration, and get more done in less time.

Thomas regularly speaks to business associations, civic groups, and conferences. He also releases educational training videos and books, and provides one on one and group coaching for people who are ready to accomplish more.
