Friday's Meeting

Town Meeting:

This week's meeting will be a Town Hall meeting so the members can help decide the path the STN will be taking for the future.

If there is a suggestion or an issue that you feel should be brought up, please come to the meeting and present that issues. Some of the issues that need to be decided are:

- 1) Growing our Membership.
- 2) Covering or assisting with weekly breakfasts.
- 3) Member participation in committees and positions.
- 4) STN BBQ and Holiday Party.
- 5) Open Forum.

Feel free to notify us in advance for any topics you would like to see addressed.

Positions that NEED Filling!

The Event Coordinator position needs a new back-up .

The Guest Speaker Coordinator position needs a back up assistant.

Volunteers are still greatly needed to help cook, serve, and clean up for the STN Friday morning meetings!

If anyone is interested in this opportunity, please contact:

Herb McElrath or Patrick Pearce

The Best Career Tests to Determine Your Skills and Interests

Acquired from: Answers.com

If you're new to the job market or just looking for a career change, then a career test can be a good way to narrow down your options. Here are some of the best career tests online to give you a head start.

Career Fitter

This 60 question free test evaluates a number of factors related to your ideal career placement. If you're looking for a more in-depth test, then the site also offers a paid version that evaluates 10 aspects of your career aptitude. Once you have your test results in hand, then head over to Career Builder, the test's sister site, to begin your job search. See: Career Fitter

Assessment.com

This test evaluates your career interests by testing your interests. For each question, you are given a series of scenarios and asked which you would like most and least to do. The results are then used to assess which career options are best for you. See: Assessment.com

The Princeton Review

This career test requires you to create a free login. The short assessment is based on the Birkman Method, a test which is only available online for a fee. This abridged version gives you a good idea of where to start, and some ideas of what careers might interest you. See: The Princeton Review

Careertest.net

This adaptation of the Myers-Briggs personality test places emphasize on career options. First complete the test to see where your personality lands on five axes, and then see what jobs are related to your personality type. The test has 68 questions and generally takes about 20 minutes to complete. See: careertest.net

Educations.com

This career test is focused on new students who may still be determining a course of study to determine their future employment. It includes 35 questions related to interests and skills, and then evaluates how well you would fit in seven potential career areas. It then breaks the results down further, offering suggestions for specific careers and providing information on how to pursue each one. See: Educations.com

A career test can be a great way to help you zero in on what job options are right for you. Try one today, and find out how to balance your interests and skills to achieve your full potential.

Note: Some sites may not be free.
